Hill End - Hargraves Resource Growth Focus

28 May 2010

ASX Code : HEG

Further to the excellent drilling results from Hargraves and the recognised potential for resource growth both at Hill End and Hargraves the Company is to focus on expanding its resource inventory in the known extensive mineralised structures adjacent to the areas of current activity.

The key short term objective for the Company is maximisation of gold resources at both Hargraves and Hill End through targeted drilling programs.

Underground development and mining at Hill End has successfully identified the ore body controls and the mineability of the continuous high grades zones within the Hawkins Hill – Reward deposit resource. This deep understanding of the geology and ore will greatly assist in drill testing the full extent of the Hawkins Hill - Reward mineralisation system and the delineation of further resources. In order to focus on the significant work required to complete this the underground mining at Hill End is to be temporarily halted.

At Hargraves, resource expansion is being progressed through comprehensive exploration of the numerous prospects, including extensions of the BNH structure. BNH Central zone drilling results are being received and compiled for a maiden resource estimate and mine and project planning for the Hargraves deposits is underway.
